KELTON FINLEY
AT DOUGLAS ELLIMAN REAL ESTATE

Known for his sharp instincts, straight-shooting style, and deep knowledge of the Austin market, Kelton helps clients cut through the noise and make confident, strategic moves–whether they're buying a forever home, listing a showstopper, or building long-term investment value.

In the vertical world of Downtown Austin, Kelton has carved out a niche in high-rise living–where skyline views, cutting-edge design, and city energy converge. He loves seeing Austin from a different perspective (literally) and brings that same clarity and creativity to every deal.

His approach is hands-on, high-touch, and entirely focused on helping clients feel informed, empowered, and one step ahead at every turn. With a proven track record as a top producer, Kelton isn't here to follow the status quo. He's here to set a new one.

Most agents talk square footage. Kelton talks about light angles, skyline lines, and what it feels like to wake up 400 feet above the ground.

WHY THIS STRATEGY WORKS

- Properties priced at market levels indicate proper appraising, assisting in the buyer's ability to secure a loan.
- More buyers are attracted, and more serious offers are received.
- Marketing time is shortened, with immediate activity from the moment the property becomes available.
- Increased activity on the property can often cause it to sell at or above asking price.
